Dear Students (and Parents/Carers),

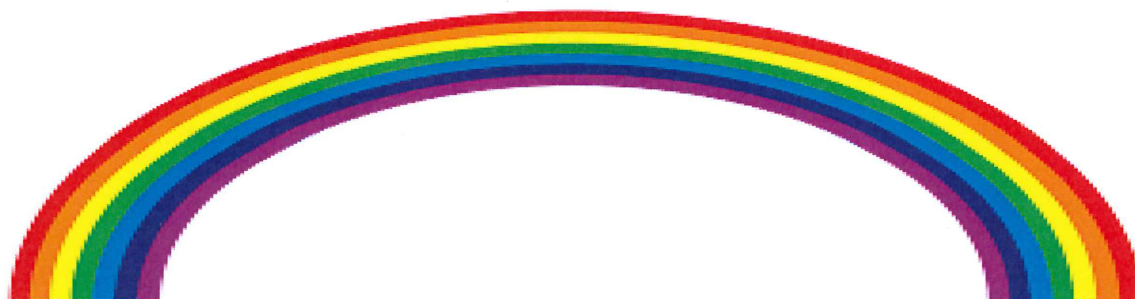

We really hope that you have managed to enjoy some of the sunshine safely with your family over the Easter break. It has been lovely for your teachers to hear how you have all been getting on at home doing some brilliant activities such as arts & craft, dancing, sports, cooking and so much more!

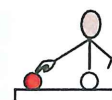

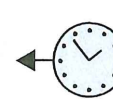

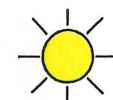

Sadly, although today is the start of a new term, we still aren't allowed to come in to college. However, don't think we have forgotten you! All your teachers have more activities for you to do. Your teachers love to hear how you've been getting on and will continue to call home to speak your parents and carers and hopefully speak to you also.

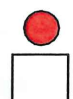

We miss you all. The college is a very strange place without you but we are so excited to see you all again, whenever that might be. Until then, continue being brave and amazing.

We have enclosed a sunflower seed for you to plant and nurture whilst you are away. Please let your teachers know how it's getting on.
